EMERGENCY PREPAREDNESS CLINICAL AUDITS

Emergency preparedness is a cornerstone of effective healthcare delivery across all sectors, from Clinical Research Organisations (CROs) and GP surgeries, to dental practices and care homes.

The updated GCP E6(R3) guidelines reinforce the need for comprehensive emergency protocols to address risks effectively—whether they involve patient safety, data security, or broader public health crises.

Independent audits for emergency preparedness serve as critical tools to evaluate readiness, identify gaps, and implement strategies that ensure swift and effective crisis management.
